I've left it up to you,
My trembling body is too weak
I was too hungry to eat.

Come on and take me by surprise
I cannot think of what we've done,
Because I would have pass that test.

You would just have to ask me
I'll surrender what I have I'm too sick to be cured.

Come on and take me by surprise
I'll be your John please hear me out
Consider it for just a second time.

Was it yours or was it mine
The fault that must have been done,
to make us end up here!
Now, as then apathy strikes
Striking down, hunts me down
Make me watch us two go down

Is it you or just someone
That fills up the empty space
I am Too sure to know.

Come on and take me by surprise
Slingshot me in to space
Wish we met in another time and place.

Was it yours or was it mine
The fault that must have been done,
to make us end up here!
Now, as then Apathy strikes
Striking down, hunts me down
Make me watch us two go down

(One; is on the outside,
Two; is on the inside
Still they try to rescue what they can

From this burning building with marks in the ceiling
Come on, don't let it happen one more time!)
