A red rose next to my bed
I'm given to the power that rules my fate
Last look on vanishing past
And turn to beautiful dust
Between the worlds
Is like a desert landscape
And a black wave falls, falls
Falls and drags me away
This is the sound
This is true faith
This is new life
We walk over sands eating footsteps behind us
Can't you see what's in doing to me
I force my mind to respond to induction
And sense the calamity
I can't remember my name
In a future that's always the same
I cling to nothing
I have no thoughts
I fear nothing
Amen
I awaken from troubled dreams
Into the nightmare reality of the strange
Life flows in spirals
Like the galaxy (and DNA)
When your're inside of life
Death starts to cry within us
To live is a dream of another dream
Being awake is another matter
At the botton of the pit I found life and death
Intertwining like a snake eating itself
I can do nothing to help god
IN NOMINE PATRIS
ET FILII
ET SPIRITUS SANCTI
Amen
