Hey girl there are a few things
You ought to know
Sure moves sophisticated
Looks down below
She never faces life
Just takes it by surprise
You want to turn away
But you're moving much too slow
If you don't care then don't refrain
So move out from your cover
'Cause every pleasure ends in pain
In one way or another
Night falls around the corner
Of your distant thought
If you're so close then why
Do you pretend to be so lost
Her future lies in mists
That linger dreams
I need to understand
What true desire means
If you don't care then don't refrain
So move out from your cover
'Cause every pleasure ends in pain
In one way or another
Do you need distractions
I can offer you a deal
Hide your satisfactions
I can taste what you can feel
If you don't care then don't refrain
So move out from your cover
'Cause every pleasure ends in pain
In one way or another
