Carry your flags, march into that fictional case and show off that medal
Just don't reach for that gun
Carry that banner, build that heart out of stone
Just don't reach for that gun
You scaled the high horse and I felt the change I know the difference between you and me You cleaned the outside of you chalice but it's filled with robbery and self indulgence...just like the rest of us
You wear that cross like a crown. You wear that cross like a dagger.
Come down from that tower. Nothing will be the outcome.
Nothing is the outcome
