I've watched the life in the land where
Pharaoh reigned
Known messiahs lead the common man
Watched the ocean turn to sand again
From the beginning and the end
So taste the light it's never bad
Don't try to guide it now it's all arranged
Can't you see your way will never lost
People roam the earth & never gain

There in the parting of the ocean
Center of all that's displayed
Before the creation you'll never know
Patiently waiting your fate

Meet me at the station
Travel in the soul
Tearing out the farm
Held me down for way too long
Counteract the stranglehold
She's still holding on till fall

Been all around the place to find an aim
Driven out, caged and tied
You'll know we all leave the same
Can you know what's real
And lead the way
Slipped off the boat in the ocean
Maybe you'll wash on the shore
Taking a trip to the overload
Run out of space going home

Meet me at the station
Travel in the soul
Gravity on the other side
Held me down for way too long
Counteract the stranglehold
She's still holdning on and on

She's weary
She'll rise

She breaks
She cries
