"Brand New Skin"

A lightning touches his light skin
You hide all you demons, surrender

You are the rain now nourishin'
You hold him knowing, he will fly away

Today, you think just please take time to live with me
Everything revealed

Roaming your skin makes him forget
Carries on caring, not seeing everything
Your soul is growing no more hate
His heart offers all pure and you suffer without him

Inspired you smile to him and he truly loves your skin,
Smiles away your sin
That flame, for never and today, it's a sweet embrace
To love a gentle way

There is still a fight within the deep
Cold chains behind, cannot see you and me
There is a power that reveals the hardest feelings
But you know now that with you he has a brand new skin

Inspired he smiles to her and she truly loves his skin,
Smiles away his need
That flame, for never and today, it's a sweet embrace
To love a gentle way
