I don't need no backseat driver
I know exactly where I want to go
Turn the corner next left please
I've been down this dead end street before

Up to now you've had it your way
It don't work to compromise
You push, you shove, you manipulate

If I fall flat on my ass at least it ain't my face

This time I'm letting go, this time I won't be there
I know you need me now but I need me too
Oh this time, this time you're on your own (you're on your own)

Said you'd meet me at the station
Bitch your ticket's paid, was the least I could do
Now you're bringin on all this extra heavy baggage
So much drama for so little love

This time I'm letting go, this time I won't be there
I know you need me now but I need me too
Oh this time, this time you're on your own (you're on your own)

I don't need no backseat driver
Ain't this it where you get out
No more, all aboard, all aboard, all aboard No!
I've been down this dead end street before

This time I'm letting go, this time I won't be there
I know you need me now but I need me too
Oh this time, this time you're on your own (you're on your own)
