"Walk With Me"

Don't think of me as a stranger. I'm sure there's got to be things we agree upon.

I'll try to indulge you in this fantasy. Only if you come away with me.

I wouldn't walk away and, leave you all alone.

I'll be right by your side I'd be yours to hold.

I wouldn't want you to be anywhere. I wouldn't want you anywhere but here.

Why don't you Walk With Me through, bittersweet,
memories.

We have the chance to be happy. From now on.

Is this the one? I see the way that everyone we trust keeps leading us astray.

I think we can do better. It starts with you it starts with me today.

Can you put yourself into this picture. Oh how I love to watch you shine.

You make me feel the best when I'm with you. You'll never know just what it is you do.

Why don't you Walk With Me through, bittersweet,
memories.

We have the chance to be happy. From now on.

Why don't you talk to me about, what it really means.

We have the choice to be anything.
