Since you've been gone
Life still goes on but it's not the same
The days linger on
And the nights seem so long with no one to blame

But I can't go on
Singing the same sorry song
But I can't get you out of my head
Today, today

But it's all right
I still remember the first time
Everything changed on the inside
But I was alright in the end
And it's not cos you're breaking my heart
I'm just losing a friend.

Yesterday's gone
And I just begun to live for the day
The days still go on
And the nights seem so long without no one to blame

But I can't go on
Singing the same sorry song
But I can't get you out of my head
Today, today

But it's all right
I still remember the first time
Everything changed on the inside
I was alright on the outside
Of life
When you can't sleep
And you know what it's like to be lonely
Don't even bother to phone me
Cos I'll be all right in the end
And it's not cos you're breaking my heart
I'm just losing a friend.

And I can't go on
Singing the same sorry song

But I can't get you out of my head
Today, today

But it's all right
I still remember the first time
Everything changed on the inside
I was alright on the outside
Of life
When you can't sleep
And you know what it's like to be lonely
Don't even bother to phone me
Cos I'll be all right in the end
And it's not cos you're breaking my heart
I'm just losing a friend.

And it's not cos you're breaking my heart
I'm just losing a friend.
And it's not cos you're breaking my heart
I'm just losing a friend
