A child is alone in the world
And no one is there to comfort or to guide him
A child is alone in the world
And no one is there to comfort or to guide him

Woke up this morning
April said she was fine
She was looking for more than comfort
All she had to give was time
He said everything will be okay
She never thought he'd lie
Now she's ... moan and bleeding alone
In her bed

You wanted everything
You got it, you got it
But in the end
It's more than you could take
(x2)

April starts to cry, again
As they take away her baby
For his new life to begin
She screams not my baby
Please don't take my baby away from me!
I'll give him a life that he deserves
Yeah

You wanted everything
You got it, you got it
But in the end
It's more than you could take
(x6)

You got it, you got it
You got it, you got it
You got it, you got it
You got it, you got it
