expect all your life to be let down & to say good bye to friends you've found cuz we both will hav to leave this town for better lifes

& for awhile
i will take it day by day
& drive for miles
& though i still dont know the way when everything was beautiful but we still have dreams to chase here i miss you more than ever now as i stair in space and laugh out loud and all the stupid things i've dont til now & our hearts can rise and for awhile

i will take it day by day
& drive for miles
& though i still dont know the way
but we went our seperate ways

& it needs us cuz it always is this way dont repeat this but i'll gladly take the blame wanted the same, nothing has changed instead you wont find me

& for awhile
i will throw this all away i'll drive for miles
though i still dont know the way
but we still have dreams to chase & everything was beautiful
but we went our seperate ways

& someday we realize that its better off this way

"it just takes time"
