(Rory Bourke - Mike Reid)

Money is a prison in which I have done time
Material possessions will steal your heart blind
Love ever faithful precious and true
Is the only thing that in hard times will safely see you through.

If all I had left in life was you
I'd have all I needed and when each day was through
I'd walk out in the night and thank my lucky stars above
If all that I had left in life was you to love.

Sometimes late at night a little fear creeps in That one day I will lose what I've worked so hard to win
You come to me with kisses that ease away my doubt Baby you're the only thing I can't live without.

If all I had left in life was you
I'd have all I needed and when each day was through
I'd walk out in the night and thank my lucky stars above
If all that I had left in life was you to love.

If all that I had left in life was you to love...
