Damn the Machine

Drilling in the center of my mind

One evil dream

The annihilation of mankind

The stern-faced leaders in their temple of doom

Creating nightmares made for me and for you

Damn the machine

The enemy is stalking in the void

One evil dream

The engine's running faster to destroy

Here come the raiders they're invading us all

We stand in silence with our backs to the wall

Once I believed in the voice of a god

The god of creation is gone

A call from the heart to the god of love

Send us an angel, a sign from above

All of the damned and a silent scream

Save us and damn the machine

The curse - foretold in prophecies is haunting us now

The world - a creeping agony and there's no way out

Caught in illusions I'm screaming in pain

The demon is corroding my brain

A call from the heart to the god of love

Send us an angel, a sign from above

All of the damned and a silent scream

Save us and damn the machine
