I'm trapped in a castle of illusions out in space, - no more illusions -

Out on a journey, on a mission for the human race

Terrified, I had to realize that I've been talkin' to the gods of fire

I got nowhere to stand, 'cause I'm a running man... to get away

All that I see is the years... somewhere out in space

And it's time for deliverance

Tomorrow, I'll see it, another day's rise ... right before my eyes

Been sinking in sorrow, but now I'm gonna rise

No more reasons why

I'm a watcher in the dark, I'm so cold inside my heart

I'm a temple in the storm, and I'm bound to be reborn

Take me down to the underground, let me see the
gods of fire

'Cause I know where they live and I know where they stand,

Another reason there to leave

Take me down, take me down, take me to the underground

I wanna meet the gods of fire

And all of their intention is the center of it all

All that I see is the years ... somewhere out in space
and it's time for deliverance
Now that I know I've got to get away
Time for deliverance now
And as the sun appeared, up in the sky
I saw another day, that's drifting by I saw my people cry, a million tears
Into eternity they disappeared
Now it's time to say goodbye, or we will sink in sorrow
No, we don't know the reason why, another day, tomorrow
Oh, I thank you for giving me hope Oh, follow me into a new life
All that I see is the years, all that I see is the tears
All that I see is the years... somewhere out in space
And it's time for deliverance
All that I see is the fear... somewhere out in space
And it's time for deliverance
I wanna know how to get away, I wanna know how to get away
Come set me free, just set me free, just let me go
I wanna get away, get away
Somewhere out in space
