High in the machines

Above the earth

We observe your lifeform

We've come for you

Riding the machines

We'll take your souls

Riding the machines

We've come to rule

About 400,000 years ago

When evolution was still on the make

An extraterrestrial race

Appeared in our part of the galaxy

Heading straight to earth

Riding the machines

We'll take your souls

Riding the machines

We've come for you

When they finally landed

They found a planet with perfect survival conditions

A lower lifeform called humans

Considered them as gods

From somewhere out of space
