watergate
scenery twisted
as i slip off the back of the rock that's so hard to hold on to and what a day you left me you went through the back door you knew there was no hope and i wish you were back there

to see what's going on
and i wish you could be here

serious twist it as i stab at the back weave of thread form fabric of existence and what a way you let be you went through the black door
