Your not alone, there's no one by you got a reason for it you took a try, you lost control

I got a feeling that it's coming ??

I can see you, looking right through you, can you hear me no time for you, staring right through me, can you see me your on your own, there's no disguise you feel it coming to it there's no one by, you're feeling old just want you feeling like the first time that I saw you

I can see you, looking right through me, can you hear me no time for you, starring right though me, can you see me you're all alone, as time goes by must be a meaning to it

I never try, I'd rather sleep but watch your head as I watch ????

no time for you, starring right through you, can you see me
