

Oedipus Complex, The "Point the Direction of Saturn"

I'll go where no one goes
I need to branch beyond the scenes
I want to travel far and wide
Distances from everything

Please direct me where no one has ever been
Signs all point the direction of Saturn now

Chemical bonds
Covalent connections erode with time
I don't need you or you
Desire relocation in my mind

Because somewhere there's a place I can heal
And you wouldn't understand how it feels

In retrospect
I denied what I was told
Slipping out of touch with it
Afraid of getting worn and old

Please direct me where no one has ever been
Signs all point the direction of Saturn now

Out here where no one goes
Nothing breathes and nothing grows
Somewhere where no one knows
Sun can't shine and moons don't glow

Far away
Far away from here
Far away for good
