She crossed the street and hit my world
I hurt this skinny baby girl and suddenly it all fell down
It went so fast, a second that lasts
An eternity, future to past Thinking about it I break down

I'll always feel the shame,
I thought I left you unconscious; your life; just like your name is precious
Precious like a pearl, sorry little girl

I'm so sorry for what I've done
I never never meant to hurt you Gather all your arms
When all is said and done
No one's ever safe
Safe from harm

It's hard for you to realise that in this I am traumatised already Just by the sound so quick to blame while you evade the responsibility, my part I claim but is it really fair to pin me down

I'll always feel the shame
I thought I left you unconscious; your life just like your
name is precious
Precious like a pearl, forgive me little girl

You walked onto my life
You Crashed into my entire world Watchin' our paths collide

The moment deserves a thought Reflection on how it goes Why did our paths align?

This notion I get of life " "
I found it goes on Long after our paths divide
