many choices in front of you you wanna find out for yourself what you wanna do it's weird you seem to try to have ideals that change all the time or die
do you wanna be another guy that forms his own conspiracy
and I wonder the things that you believe last for just two weeks, it's weird to me

yea I just wonder why we copy the opinions that we like cause we wanna know the things we stand for but we can't decide could you find your way if you knew that were all on the same side
we're the road, oh yeah

if i'm loosing it again could you remind me what i like to do put my face right in the truth cause it's hard to find the road when the choices are too much too find find the road, the road's inside

you wanna find out for yourself what you wanna do
the things that you believe last for just two weeks, it's

same side

we're the road
