Life sucks, it shows
It's difficult dealing with feelings you hardly know

Time cures, they say
If it isn't the case will you try to move on anyway?

Into your world
where you hear the voices screaming
where living is like dreaming
Into your world
Where the inside's always aching
Where reality is faking

You changed, you did
You used to be different by being a regular kid

You're fucked, they say
They don't understand the battle your facing each day

Into your world
where you hear the voices screaming
where living is like dreaming
Into your world
Where the inside's always aching
Where reality is faking

I know they're mistaken
I know your world is breaking
Your world is breaking down
