"Taking It"

Everyday the same. People all around, who are they. Working toward the future.
Unsure that there could be more then money and success.
Feeding off each others wants.
These expectations shape our lives, routine messing with the mind.

A long walk on a never-ending road.
We are trying so hard to fulfill the dream.
Accomplishing but accomplishing nothing for ourselves,
its time to realize, there is more to today then thoughts of tomorrow.

Refusing to stand still. Looking to myself.
Letting go is not easy, but living is supposed to be.
Demanding My Life
