And to the brink I will rise
And to the brink I will rise, rise

You wanna be on top, you better stay on top
Fight the way, keep your distance
Loss of everything, beat your face in Nine to five keep your distance

You, you keep away from me
Keep away from their ingenuity
Never gonna get what you want
Unless you stay dedicated
You ain't never gonna be the gleam
That keeps us all together

Strength from within
Strength from within

Regulate and isolate
Break yourself make mistakes
Rearrange and learn from what you've done
Reinstate, acopulate loss of fate be yourself
To you want, tell yourself you'll be what you want to be

Sometimes the violence gets to me
Makes me so sick I can't even see, I will prevail
Look good to follow by the hard times
And the good shall return and this I do swear
Though my eyes I have seen, you're okay
Through suffocation, dedication I will rise

Through the heartbreak, through the sorrow
Let it pass by till tomorrow
Yes the city breathes still you run
Harm yourself from yourself

Still we crawl on this wall
Faces pale afraid to fall
As we plummet, as we plunder
We learn a lesson that lasts forever

No more compromise

No more compromise
No more compromise
No more compromise, yeah
