"Same Kind"

Wished that someone sitting next to me, in this house,
With the same kind of coffee in his hands like me ,
Here we are again,
Drinking the .. like a confident
I'm realizing we were never meant.

Cold lightening porcelain for years
Is so unspoken but we never had the words
Sweets silence be determined
I looking down to my silver spoon
The only mirror that is in this room
The silence keeps as both the light
That's why we like to think at me before we ..close i rise.

Wish that someone laying next to me at night
With the same kind of .. in his eyes like me
Here we are again
Drinking your jealous like a confident
I realize we were never meant
Sweets silence be determined
I'm looking down to my silver spoon
The only mirror that is in this room

Thanks to garbo
