Buried beneath the centuries,
memories of horrific prophecies, the word of god forced upon the weak Acceptance, blinded they will be Silent, the flesh withers away Ra-Hoor-Khuit! cleanse us thy kingdom, defy this by fire and blood
My sanctum, this majesty of sin
These structures of malevolence inherit my darkened spirit
Storm the gates, spiral portal descends
I quicken with the burning of barren relics Excoriate the myth, slaughter of their precious lamb all is fading from the Osiris strain
Vengeance, our fucking vengeance
Christ, you are crucified once again
Now inverted, my dream unfolds
All has faded from the Osiris strain
The storm bleeds the frail light,
Above, beneath, all that lay beyond the heavens Your beloved fixture of flesh and oak ingest the silhouettes from below
Growing blacker... blacker... blacker.... blacker Ebony is the colour of our salvation
Vengeance, our fucking vengeance
Christ, you are crucified once again
Now inverted, my dream unfolds
Tear down the walls of gold...
