Ooh I remember those old love letters
Plagued with memories, I can't forget us
Trying to fight it, trying to hide it
Rekindled flames are not recommended
But it never went out boy, it never ended
Trying to fight it, trying to hide it
But your love it shines
In a cruel hard world
It's a miracle to find
Someone good, someone whose love it shines
Your love it shines
Here in this apartment with oh too many rooms Pearls once meant something, they brought me only gloom
Trying to fight it, trying to hide it
Rekindled flames are not recommended
But it never went out boy, it never ended
Crime can fight it, lies can hide it
But your love it shines
In a cruel hard world
It's a miracle to find

Someone good, someone whose love it shines

Your love it shines

You'd better shine your love, shine your love, shine it up

You'd better shine your love, shine your love, shine it
up

In a cruel hard world

It's a miracle to find

Someone good, someone whose love it shines

Your love it shines
