Here you are standing at the crossroads
It didn't take long till you came upon a man
With his arms folded
Here you are standing at the crossroads
It didn't take long till you came upon a man
With his arms folded

If I die tomorrow would you feel pain for me
Or would you be happy?
Cause the life I've lived I'm proud to say I was here this day
Rejoice call out my name to the Heavens
If your rolling with me you got a place with me
When you're coming to the crossroads remember to breathe
Leave all the hate and pain you spilled upon on me
From the down trodden to the bottom of the barrel Everywhere in between my mind is riddled with the ripple effect

Here you are standing at the crossroads
It didn't take long till you came upon a man
With his arms folded
Here you are standing at the crossroads
It didn't take long till you came upon a man
With his arms folded

I'm seeing mad people hating everywhere that I look
I'm just bleeding these words that I read in my book
Enlightened with hook
People trying to get ahead of me
With their focus negativity I just breathe out the nativity
Literally promoters middling me
I'm just a riddling B that can add 1 up to 3
And speaking of three that means knowledge plus wisdom
It's the three wise humans rewriting the system
And the structure of my style will shake you down to your vertebrae
If something goes wrong it was the government who murdered me
Conspiracy driven nightmares of combat residual

Motivated, dedicated, highly trained individual
Dedicated to the point where I'm putting the message
Ahead of the beef
Ahead of the stresses
Giving back to Hip-Hop just to make an improvement
7 Profitz got a style called the Long Island movement

Here you are standing at the crossroads
It didn't take long till you came upon a man
With his arms folded
Here you are standing at the crossroads
It didn't take long till you came upon a man
With his arms folded

Till you came upon a man with arms folded
He was trying to sell you something
Did you take that sale?
