Till the day that I entered the atmosphere
With no fear to steer clear
So stay awake cause eternal sleep is always calling

Like Razah told me before there ain't no peace with out war

Sometimes I wanna find my enemies and even the score

Some nights I sit in a chair with the laser on my rifle
The soldier followed me all the way to the disciple
Apademik now A-Ped-A-Mak for the laymans
Been living on the planet since the days of the cavemen

In a certain kind of way before intelligent design
Relevance never behind kicking intelligent rhyme
A prophetic sign dropping macro economic
Marketing plans to drop our flow in ebonic
Messages you get arrested for playing thru your speakers

Even though your a teacher
Might sound dramatic but someday it might happen
Already got files for everybody that rapping
With the government distraction brainwashing our children as they play with their toys

Till the day that I entered the atmosphere
With no fear to steer clear
So stay awake cause eternal sleep is always calling

I said it in a moment
I meant it in a minute
I'ma spit it like I writ it reborn knowledge to infinite
 $E=MC$ four times to be squared
Rebuilding temples and towers does anybody care
Planes crashed into the twins like Nostradamus predicted
After the towers crumbled no one found where it was scripted
Flights got shot down by military lasers
Some rock stars can't sing they just distort their voice with phasers
Alien conspiracies intelligent design

Hater conspiracies so I stay diligent with rhyme
Still I kill it every time
You choose a pill to kill your mind
I'm turning water into wine
A Messiah of the time
Leading the blind the vine valleys of the dead
They caught of my wings
So in the valley I bled
It went straight to my head
Instead of pumping lead I sat and broke bread
It was the humans I led

Till the day that I entered the atmosphere
With no fear to steer clear
So stay awake cause eternal sleep is always calling
