And when he came, he knew the game, nobody even there at all
And when he spoke, nobody woke, nobody even cared at all
I don't wanna lie to you, don't wanna bring you down
Don't wanna cry with you, just wanna turn you round and round and round, round

Come on along, come on along
Open up your hearts to find your love is tonight
Tell you everything is gonna be alright, everything'll be alright
He said that he'll please you, and he don't mean to tease you
It's enough to confuse you, it's alright, alright
They thought you were ready, and the band was too heavy
That you were too small now, well alright, alright
And notice his grace man, he soars like a spaceman
He'll see you next lifetime, it's alright, alright
Out all night, alright, out all night, alright, out all night
His eyes were bright, his thoughts were tight, his heart was open to them all But they just laughed, as in the past, they hadn't learned a thing at all
I don't wanna lie to you, don't wanna bring you down
Don't wanna cry with you, just wanna turn you round

Open up your hearts to find your love is' tonight
Come on along, come on along
Tell you everything is gonna be alright, everything'll be
He says that he'll please you, and he don't mean to tease you
It's enough to confuse you, it's alright, alright
You thought you were ready, and the band was too

heavy

That you were too small now, well alright, alright
And notice his grace man, he soars like a spaceman
He'll see you next lifetime, well it's alright, alright
Out all night, alright, out all night, alright, out all night, alright, out all night
