Night time is the time you choose
Flight time with nothing to lose
A lifetime of pain and abuse
I've got to wake up, Lord I got to wake up
I see your eyes grow holes, I feel your heart grow cold
Please let me turn away, I can't face another day

I can hear you callin' me, like you did before
I was talkin' like a man insane, but I'd scream for more
I can feel you pleasing me, I can't take any more
I can feel you're sent this time to drag me down

And later on, will you want my soul
I'm so afraid that I'll lose control
I'll settle down, I just need some rest
Come on sugar, now do your best
My time has come at last, all my bridges are burning fast

Time has come for me to choose, little to win, but plenty to lose
I believed in you, you see, now with only you and me

Who was right, and who was wrong
I was lost and you were all alone
I see your eyes grow holes, I feel your heart grow cold
Please let me turn away, I can't face another day

I can hear you callin' me, like you did before
I was talkin' like a man insane, but I'd scream for more
I can feel you pleasing me, I can't take any more
I can feel you're sent this time to drag me down
I can hear you callin' me, like you did before
I was talkin' like a man insane, but I'd scream for more
I can feel you pleasing me, I can't take any more
