This could be the right one, I'm not really sure
This could be the right one, I've never felt love like this before
I'm actin' like a lover that's out of control
Makin' you promises and actin' a fool
I'm goin' through somethin' that I don't understand
I know that I need you and I'll do what I can, cause

This could be the right one (this could be the right one)
This could be the only one (this could be the only one)
This could be the right one, this could be the one we're waiting for
This could be the right one (this could be the right one)
This could be the only one

Won't you let me show you how nice it could be
I just wanna please you (I just wanna please you)
To give you pleasure is a pleasure for me
I've always tried to walk away from lovers
It's too big a heartache, when there's always another
I run for cover but I keep in touch
I've learned to care, but not too much, cause

This could be the right one (this could be the right one)
This could be the only one (this could be the only one)
This could be the right one, this could be the one we're waiting for
This could be the right one (this could be the right one)
This could be the only one

They say that it could happen, I'm certain it's true
Wouldn't it be somethin' (wouldn't it be somethin')

Wouldn't it be somethin' if it happened to me and you
All the glory of a new romance
I never wanted to take that chance
Foresaking all caution, no need to pretend
We're caught in our passion, our fate in the wind, cause

This could be the right one (this could be the right one)
This could be the only one (this could be the only one)
This could be the right one, this could be the one we're waiting for

You bring me up, you bring me down
You find the words to turn me around and around
Wait (wait), let's take our time, let's be sure I say wait (wait), careful now, let's understand, what's in store, cause

This could be the right one (this could be the right one)
This could be the only one (this could be the only one)
This could be the right one, this could be the one we're waiting for

This could be the right one (this could be the right one)
You could be the only one (you could be the only one)
This could be the right one, this could be the one we're waiting for

This could be the right one (this could be the right one)
This could be the only one (this could be the only one)
This could be the right one, this could be the one we're waiting for

This could be the right one (this could be the right one)
You could be the only one (you could be the only one)
