You're the one who spoke the loudest
So loud, oh so sure
Can't you see that I'm not listening to your lies
You spoke these words for oh so long now
That you believe in them
But these lies will take you nowhere
It's not too late

Turn from it now
These things you do will come around one day
The path you take
Will lead you one step closer to nowhere

Can't you see that your religion was oh self-made
For yourself to make you happy? Am I wrong
To say that you've convinced yourself now
And you're always right?
But would you ever sacrifice your life for it?

Turn from it now
These things you do will come around one day
The path you take
Will lead you one step closer to nowhere x2

Take a look
These things you do will come around one day
The path you take
Will lead you one step closer to nowhere
Will lead you to nowhere
