Whispers in my head make me think
How could a king love a man like me?
Though you've tested and tried my faith
I will forever believe in you

I take my life and give it to you
All I want is of you
Tear me apart and make me new
So I can live again
Take my heart, split it open
Find the wrong I've done
And take my sin, refine it so I'm pure again

Build me up and tear me down
Make me stronger for your will
Numb me from this world of hate
So I can feel again

I take my life and give it to you
All I want is of you
Tear me apart and make me new
So I can live again
Take my heart, split it open
Find the wrong I've done
And take my sin, refine it so I'm pure again

Take my heart, split it open
Find the wrong I've done
And take my sin, refine it so I'm pure again

Take x2
So I can live again
