Stay with me.
Lay awake.
The fear you've consumed has kept you this way.
These hands are tied.
There's nowhere to run.
The silence is screaming.
Outside of your house, he's calling for you.
You cover your curse, with nothing to lose.
It's dark. Contained, but still you lie awake.
So open up your eyes.
The silence is breaking.
Clear your lungs as fate unfolds.
Take a breath and let it out.
You're alone, but still you pray.
The drugs you consume will keep you this way.
These hands are tied, there's nowhere to run.
The silence is screaming.
Outside of your room, he's coming for you.
There's nowhere to run, so what will you do?
It's dark. Contained, but still you lie awake.
Alone. Prayers surround you now, so stay with me tonight.
You are alone inside.
At last you're free.
