

One Way Out

"Maybe There Is"

Visit "Maybe There Is" on MotoLyrics.com

You're a passenger aboard the train
The darkness is to your heart
What a broken wheel is to a cart
And the small amount of light breaking through
Is but a bag of sand
To the flood of doubt trying to drench you

Is anybody gonna hold your head up?
Is this a battle you've fought on your own?
And I'm struggling to be the voice of reason
Trapped inside this nightmare

Maybe there is more
Than what is on the surface
Maybe you and I
Can't take this journey on our own
Father are You there?
We need You
To take away these broken hearts
Forgiveness is what we need

Is anybody gonna hold your head up?
Is this a battle you've fought on your own?
And I'm struggling to be the voice of reason
Trapped inside this nightmare
And maybe there's more
Than just a speck of hope left
Holding on by a strand
And maybe there's more
Than just the sight of whats next
Cuz it's clearing now

Fight to breathe the air
Fighting to let it all out
Holding by a strand
On your own ...(chorus)

Visit One Way Out page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

