Love is a beautiful thing, it's more rare
Than a diamond ring so if you find it
Try to keep it be strong together
'Cause you'll need it

Things don't work out all the time
Some of the greatest loves don't stay together
Could be yours and mine

'Cause I was taught, never say never
But if we ever went our separate ways
I know I loved enough to last all my days

'Cause this is so right
And, now, I can't find
Enough ways to say it no

I can't say it enough, there's nothin' like your love
I keep tryna find new ways to say
But I love you, baby, and nothin' can change it
No, no, no

We could be poor on the streets
With no food to eat, nothin' but the Warmth of our bodies

We could be miles away
For months at a time
The distance wouldn't break us

We could be filthy rich together
I wouldn't love you no better
Than I do right now

I can't find enough ways to say it
But I love you

I can't say it enough, there's nothin' like your love
I keep tryna find new ways to say
But I love you, baby, and nothin' can change it
No, no, no

'Cause love is a beautiful thing
It's more rare than a diamond ring
So if you find it, try to keep it
Be strong together 'cause you'll need it

When times get rough you can't give up
'Cause nothing's more important
Than your love, your love

I can't say it enough, there's nothin' like your love
I keep tryna find new ways to say
But I love you, baby, and nothin' can change it
No, no, no

I can't say it enough, there's nothin' like your love
I keep tryna find new ways to say
But I love you, baby, and nothin' can change it
No, no, no

I can't say it enough
I can't say it enough
I can't say it enough
I can't say it enough
