Once I had a mission
It turned into affliction
He never listens!
When I told you it was terminal

Demon sent to tempt ya
Fire would have melt ya
It would have helped ya,
but you always did cry wolf

Why don't you kill yourself?
You ain't no use to noone else
Why don't you kill yourself?
You ain't no use to noone else

You call out from the gutter
I couldn't hear the words you muttered
Then you discovered hell,
and payed the full price

Angel sent to tempt ya
Desire couldnt melt ya
This ain't no missionary speech,
just a friendly advice

Why don't you kill yourself?
You ain't no use to noone else
Why don't you kill yourself?
You ain't no use to none else

I heard you had your stumach up four times already this week, and you're just a guy born with love, and you're just been on eight weeks in a streak?Â
