Always trust in dreams
Even if it seems like such a losing cause
Feel what you believe
Don't be persuaded by those whose lives are lost

And if your dreams feel like they're coming to an end
The simple words I have to say
And if your dreams feel like they're coming to an end
Escape the night and into day

Always trust your feelings
Every day gets brighter and lights the fire, I know
Kneel and you'll believe it
And if it takes firelight to find happiness, then it's so

And if your dreams feel like they're coming to an end
The simple words I have to say
And if your dreams feel like they're coming to an end
Escape the night and into day

[Guitar solo] + [La Chance's build-up]

And if your dreams feel like they're coming to an end
The simple words I have to say
And if your dreams feel like they're coming to an end
Escape the night and into day

Escape the night and into day
