At the end of days, at the end of time
When the sun burns out, will any of this matter?
Who will be there to remember who we were?
Who will be there to know that any of this had meaning for us?

And in retrospect I'll say we've done no wrong
Who are we to judge what's right and what has purpose
for us?
With designs upon ourselves to do no wrong Running wild unaware of what might come of us

The sun was born and so it shall die so only shadows
comfort me
I know in darkness I will find you giving up inside like me
Each day shall end as it begins and though you're far away from me
I know in darkness I will find you giving up inside like
me

Without a thought I will see everything eternal Forget that once we were just dust from heavens far As we were forged to shall return, perhaps some day I will remember us and wonder who we were

comfort me
I know in darkness I will find you giving up inside like
me
Each day shall end as it begins and though you're far
away from me
I know in darkness I will find you giving up inside like
me
