A new age of reason
Bring treason to trick the mind
What good is searchin'
If nothin's there to find

We are at this place
Of no return my brothers
Only to discover that our minds have led us away,
So far from the painful truth of who we are

What's right is wrong
What's come has come
What's clear and pure is not so sure
It came to me
All promises become a lie
All that's benign corrupts and die
The fallacy
Of epiphany

Come forth bear witness
See the prophet from your lost
Beg for forgiveness
Only after you're telling the cost

We are at this place
Of no return my sisters
Only to discover that our values ran us around,
On the show, in the sea, of what we could be

What's right is wrong
What's come has come
What's clear and pure is not so sure
It came to me
All promises become a lie
All that's been reigned corrupts and die
The fallacy
Of epiphany

If it's real for me
Do I have to prove it to you
Why do revelations made to cold blue untruth

It's oh so fallible
So serve me if you don't know what's perspective

What's right is wrong
What's come has come
What's clear and pure is not so sure
It came to me
All promises become a lie
All that's been reigned corrupts and die
The fallacy
Of epiphany

Oh Oh Oh
Always failing me
