shed a tear for the criminal, give him something to believe light a fire for the miserable, give the darkness some meaning closed wounds harbor pestilence, when you lick them from within charity has a redolence chastity cannot rescind spirit shine, it's a sign of a troubled mind (tortured mind) spirit shine all the time can render you blind you can take it all to heart or throw it all away you can give until you're dry and sucked of all your gleam you can fake another cry and compromise your dream cling tight to the parable ? let it dominate your life create a God who's infallible ? give your leader some respite

clouds wounds harbor pestilence ? when you lick them
from within
rosy smiles lose their radiance ? when you take it on the chin
