Late, it was always late when we would meet the only two around
Too awake to sleep, too tried to lay down so we would dream
And there were not too many words
But I still hear them though they're vague
Your gaze is gone but it is just as powerful

Angel come down, angel come down
Angel come down and grace me with your mercy
My beloved angel come down

Lonely but it's best in my quiet room, the stars above me shine
It is here where you can often be found a memory
This is the time when you would say, "Just go away"
This is the time, when you would cry for me to stay
Now I beg

Angel come down, angel come down
Angel come down and grace me with your mercy
My beloved angel come down

Wishing, one wish, anything, everything
It might just come true

Angel come down, angel come down
See you come down and grace me with your mercy
My beloved angel come down

Angel come down, angel come down
And grace me with your mercy
My beloved angel come down
