Stars have been subjects
Of poets and priests and girls on bended knees
I see the heavens looking at you
I like just looking good enough for two
Half for me and half for you
It comes completely simple and true

'Cause you're beauty to my eyes
You are the brightest star among the dullest skies
The only truth among all of these lies
You're beauty to my eyes

Now I am dreaming, voices in my head
And you are breathing from my bed
I wake up, senses reeling for you
And when I'm lucky, blue eyes help me see
A secret vision just for me
I think you know that I see it too

'Cause you're beauty to my eyes
You are the brightest star among the dullest skies
The only truth among all of these lies
You're beauty to my eyes

Sometimes looking and other times lost
Always hoping that under light and under certain skies
You'll always know that you are beauty to my eyes

Now it is day time but it cannot compare
To everything that I find there
First time I saw you darling I knew

'Cause beauty to my eyes
You are the brightest star among the dullest skies
The only truth among all of these lies
You're beauty to my eyes

You're beauty to my eyes
You are the brightest star among the dullest skies
The only truth among all of these lies
You're beauty to my eyes

Sometimes looking and other times lost
Sometimes looking and other times lost
Beauty to my eyes, beauty to my eyes
You're beauty to my eyes, beauty to my eyes
You're beauty to my eyes
