Two hundred miles from my home

A million miles from you

Living without you on my own

You know, it's hard to do

And through the night feelings grow

You know, I need you so

Lightning and thunder may appear

You know, I'll always be here

Time will never tear us apart

Will never leave us broken-hearted

Believe in me

You know how I really feel

My love how I want you near

Helen things you do

Make me crazy 'bout you

Helen when you say goodbye

It always makes me cry

Helen things you do

Make me crazy 'bout you

Helen stay, please one more night

Say you don't have to leave

Until the end of time

Helen things you do

Make me crazy 'bout you

Can't you stay

Just one more night

Can't you stay by my side

Two hundred miles from my home

A million miles from you

Living without you on my own

You know, it's hard to do

And through the night feelings grow

You know, I need you so

You know, I need you so

You know, I need you so
