I know, I know, from the assembly line
I know, I know, the three laws of my type
I was not built to lie

I was not made to smile
I ask my positron self why am I born apart

every night, every morning there's no reason for my eyes to glow every day
we work alone inside the big dome

I know, I know, all data and functions
I don't care what I am I know, I know, the power of the sun
I am the never man

why do I dream of kites I ask my kindred spirit

whatever to serve my master anything to save my master

I know, I know, the same old daily grind
I know, I know, the passage of my time
