Let me out, let me out

I still have that tube in my mouth
This space coffin is now too small
The no gravity made me too tall

I'm so dirty, plants grow on me
I need a coffee, or maybe a beer
And in this bright light, I cannot see

I've been sleeping for hundreds of years
We're on our way to the very end of the universe

We'll be the future heroes and the very first

But nobody will be waiting when we come back
Something's wrong, something's wrong

Motherboard says there's something wrong

I'm wondering what could it be this time

We might have left something behind

This mission is really out of control

Black holes and death feed my soul
We are attracted by an incredible force

We're talking speeds that have never been achieved before

We are about to disappear in an endless course
And nobody can help us here, soon we'll be gone
Gamma ray
Still OK

Overspeed

Increasing

Analysis

Visual contact
Speculations
In two seconds
What is it?

It looks like an invisible planet

Dead engine
No power
Velocity
Out-measured
Calculations
Are near at hand
The collision

Is imminent
What is it?

It looks like an invisible planet
This is VOIVOD Mark III... EMERGENCY
