Drunk again my baby
Well the water ain't my brand
That god damn demon booze
Forever hunting
Sitting on my shoulder
Talking to my inner self
Well, let's forever feed that rebel monster
Well here we go again no rules are set
And let us stay on the running train
Forever pumping - No ink on papers
To show the motherfuckers who I am
Let's forever be that rebel monster
Forever let the train be running
Without breaks
To a place like nothing else
A feeling out of tears
They came from everywhere
To see the running train

Wishing they were part of it
Duka duka duka bunga bunga
Just hold on because
The train went up in the air and crashed to the ground
Boiled in blood my baby
With a broken leg and arm
Let's forever bleed that rebel monster
They came across the land
To get the lying train back on track
And worked for days
The sun were burning them
Someone stayed and someone left
But now it runs again to a place
Like nothing else
