Outwit - A World Of Memories
Album - Drop Your Mask (EP)
Year - 2006

A world of memories and dreams
Our lives crush down by our fears, No
And now it's a little too late
We've gone too far to regret, No
No

The stars fall, to the ground
And bleed to death
And it all falls apart again
This storm won't calm Untill our freedom day well...

Where will we go ?
What's left for us now ?
And where's the road
That led us through hard times?
I wanna hold on now , and stand for
Stand for who i am.
Who i am.

although we have lost our shield we can not be forced to give in
no
don't try to relive the past, good things can not ever last
no

and i fall to the ground and bleed to death
and it all falls apart again
and when i finally closed my eyes in my dream i feel alright
wake up dreams aren't gonna heal ya,aren't gonna heal ya

Where will we go ?
What's left for us now ?

And where's the road
That led us through hard times?
I wanna hold on now , and stand for
Stand for who i am.
Who i am.

Where, will we, go?
whats left for us now?
And where's the road
That led us through hard times?
I wanna hold on now , and stand for
Stand for who i am.
Who i am.

just tell me why death is a cure
To what we are all fearing of.. can we resist it now and understand?
understand this life
this life.
