"The Letter"

Seventeen nights and fourteen days
I spent time in a hollow cave on the lower east sideÃƒÂ¥Ã‚Ã‚¼he lower east side
A long way back to your front door I stepped inside
And on the floor was a letterÃƒÂ¥Ã‚Ã‚ust a letter With my hands all wet I slowly bent Had this twisted feeling inside my head I didnÃƒÂ¦Ã…Â Ã‚° tell herÃƒÂ¥Ã…Â½â‚¬here I was going
I never quite remember why I do the things I do When IÃƒÂ¦Ã…Â Ã‚¦ sick and tired
ÃƒÂ¥Ã‚Ã¢â‚¬or myself
SheÃƒÂ¦Ã…Â Ã‚¯ the kind to sneak inside and twist your mind
You want to take a bite but then you spit it outÃƒÂ¥Ã…Â'Ã‚¢ spit it out again
On a solitary chair she placed in the corner
If I gather up the strength and get a little bolder Will I open up? IÃƒÂ¦Ã…Â Ã‚³e got to open up ÃƒÂ¥Ã‚Ã‚¼his letter
Chorus
Free me. ItÃƒÂ¦Ã…Â Ã‚¯ not worth dying for. If I gave a little more would this be fine?
Tell me. What am I trying for?
YouÃƒÂ¦Ã…Â Ã‚³e already slammed the door and left me behind.

After counting all the words I felt your pain
But I had to sit down and read it again
To let it sink in. Did it sink in ÃƒÂ¥Ã‚Ã¢â‚¬Â t all?
ItÃƒÂ¦Ã…Â Ã‚¯ hard to hold back this raging desire to light it all up
And sit by the fire and watch it burnÃƒÂ¥Ã‚Ã¢â‚¬Â¹ut now the tables turn
The only way back to the way it began
Is to take another look and try to understand See it through your eyesÃƒÂ¥Ã‚Ã‚¬ow I realize YeahÃƒÂ¥Ã…Â'Ã‚¶eahÃƒÂ¥Ã…Â'Ã‚¶eahÃƒÂ¥Ã…Â'Ã‚¶eah

(Chorus)

ItÃƒÂ¦Ã…Â Ã‚¯ been seventeen nights and fourteen days that IÃƒÂ¦Ã…Â Ã‚³e been alone

So I thought IÃƒÂ¦Ã…Â Ã…Â½ write you a letter
Just a letter
