I'm standing here with an urge to make your day i see red and blue and green but never grey i came to make you smile when you hear me sing but when these lights turn bright i forget everything baby you're outside baby you're outside this stage you cant get close and you cannot break my cage i see a hundred smiles and i try to feel you all but when these lights turn bright i just fall and fall

'couse these these clublights have freezed my eyes and i can not see at all club lights just turning me out so im loosing my control

flashlights has blinded my eyes and i cant see whos around strobe lights just riding my nerves and i just try to save my mind i 'd like to go to bed with all of you tonight but when these lights turn on you're just out of sight and my love feels so big and i want it want it to show but if i cant feel you all things begin to slow couse these.....

we're on stage to make you blind we walk on hearts and haze your minds, you got lights and sound for bliss, so take it all you've paid for this
